

Professor Jun Liu

Presents:

From Modernism to Realism: A Comparative Study of Two Groups of Chinese Writers in North America

March 3

4:15 p.m.

ARH 102

Jun Liu is Professor of Chinese Literature at the Chinese Department of Nanjing University, China. He is currently also the Chinese Director of the Confucius Institute at the University of Waterloo, Canada. He specializes in Taiwan literature, Hong Kong literature, and overseas Chinese literature. His major works include: A Compassionate Mind: Biography of Kenneth H. Pai, From Taiwan and Hong Kong to Overseas: Multi-perspectives on Cross Regional Chinese Literature, and An Overview of Chinese Literature in the World.

Sponsored by:

The Department of Chinese and Japanese, Center for International Studies, Center for the Humanities, East Asian Studies Concentration, and the Department of English

Refreshments will be served

