

2008/2009

Interdisciplinary and Collaboratively-taught Courses Offered
Fall 2008 and Spring 2009

SHARED-THEME TUTORIALS

There are several tutorials that share common themes but no tutorial instructors have yet indicated that they will be collaborating in planning and teaching

COLLABORATIVELY TAUGHT COURSES

Fall 2008

ENV195-01 Environmental Challenges and Responses

Larry Aspler
Kent McClelland
Liz Queathem
Monty Roper

Note: one credit; multiple faculty participants; counts as two courses

Spring 2009

ENV195-02 Environmental Challenges and Responses

Jon Andelson
Larry Aspler
Vince Eckhart
Kent McClelland
Elaine Marzluff

Note: one credit; multiple faculty participants; counts as two courses

HUM/SST 140-01 Medieval & Renaissance culture 1100-1650 (count as 2 courses)

Ellen Mease
John Wei

LIB195-01 Disciplinary Construction of Knowledge

Judy Hunter
Catherine Rod

SCI/SST395-01 Biomedical Technology, Public Policy and Reproduction

Kent McClelland
Liz Queathem

Note: counts as two courses

COURSES THAT ARE CROSS-LISTED OR CARRYING A CONCENTRATION OR DIVISIONAL DESIGNATION

Fall 2008

- AMS130-01- American Beliefs and Cultural Values – P. Leung
- AMS211-01- Africanist Presence in American Studies – Katya Gibel Merovach
- AMS225-01- Theory and Method in American Studies – George Barlow
- ANT/SOC291-01- Methods of Empirical research – David Cook-Martin
- ANT/REL326-01- Anthropology of Religion – Jon Andelson
- ENV125-01- Introduction to Earth Systems Science – Larry Aspler
- ENV145-01- Nations and the global Environment – David Campbell
- ENV295-02- Sustainable Agriculture; Ecology & Public Policy – Amy Broadmoore
Note: 2 credits; linked to Center for Prairie Studies
- ENV/GDS295-01- Climate Change, Development & the Environment – Peter Jacobson
- GDS111-01- Introduction to Global Development Studies – Monty Roper
- GRM/GLS233-01- Topics in German Cinema 1920 to present – Dan Reynolds
- GWS111-01 Introduction to Gender and Women’s Studies – L. Johnson
- GWS249-01- Theory in Gender and Women’s Studies – L. Johnson
- HUM101-01- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Gerald Lalonde
- HUM101-02- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Arner
- HUM101-03- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Joe Cummins
- HUM195-01- Introduction to Film Analysis – Geller
- HUM395-01- Visual Culture Linked to Center for the Humanities – Staff
Note: linked to Center for the Humanities
- LIN114-01- Introduction to General Linguistics – John Stone

NRS495-01 – Neuroscience Seminar – Nancy Rempel-Clower

PHI/POL264-01- Political Theory II – Johanna Meehan

RES291-01- Perspective on Twentieth Century & East European Lit. – Todd Armstrong

SST295-01- Perils of Entrepreneurship – White

Note: 2 credits

SST295-02-Power, Justice and Aboriginal Rights – M. Coyle

Note: 1 credit: Peace Studies and CIS

SST295-03- Introduction to GIS – Eric Carter

Spring 2009

AMS130-01- American Beliefs and Cultural Values – P. Leung

AMS391-01- Disporic Immigrations – Katya Gibel Merovach

AMS495-01- Senior Seminar – George Barlow

ANT/SOC295-01- Managing Organizational Cultures – Doug Caulkins

CLS/HIS255-01- History of Ancient Greece – Monessa Cummins

ENV295-01- An Environmental History of Food – David Campbell

ENV495-01- Senior Seminar: Africa – David Campbell

ENV/GDS195-01- Natural Hazards and Disasters – Larry Aspler

GDS111-01- Introduction to Global Development Studies – Eric Carter

GRM/GLS227-01- Topics in German Literature: Holocaust – Jenny Michaels

GWS111-01- Introduction to Gender and Women's Studies – L. Johnson

GWS295-01- Critical Race Feminism – L. Johnson

GWS295-02- Transgressive Identities: Gay Male Sensuality in World Lit – A. Vishevsky

GWS495-01- Senior Seminar – L. Johnson

HUM101-01- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Fowler

HUM101-02- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Joe Cummins

HUM101-03- Humanities I: Ancient Greek World – Staff

HUM102-01- Roman and Early Christian Culture – J. Thomas

HUM195-01- Introduction to Film Analysis – Geller

HUM295-01- Cinema: Space, Gender and Sexuality in Film – Geller

HUM395-01- Visual Cultural - Staff

Note: Linked to Center for the Humanities

LAS111-01 – Introduction to Latin American Studies – Yvette Aparicio

NRS250-01- Neuroscience: Foundations, Future, Fallacies – Raphael Cabeza

SST295- Semiotic City: Reading the Signs, Learning London (GIL) – Doug Caulkins

SST295-01- Creative Careers: Learning from Alumni – Doug Caulkins

Note: 2 credits

SST295-02- Health Geography – Eric Carter

TEC154-01- Evolution of Technology – Janet Davis

DEPARTMENTAL COURSES WITH SIGNIFICANT INTERDISCIPLINARY
OR INTEGRATIVE CONTENT (as identified by the instructors) IN DRAWING
ON THE METHODOLOGIES OR PERSPECTIVES OF MORE THAN ONE
DISCIPLINE, OR LINKED TO A NEW EKI APPOINTMENT; COURSES LINKED TO A NEW INITIATIVE

(e.g. Public Policy, Environmental Challenges and Responses; topic linked to an EKI appointment)

Fall 2008

ART195-01- Biology as a New Art Medium – M. deMenezes

Note: Short Course; 2 credits

ART260-01- Museum Studies: the Art Museum – Lesley Wright

BIO220-01- Biotechnology and its Social Impact – Diane Robertson

CSC151-01-Functional Problem Solving – Weinman

CSD151-02-Functional Problem Solving - Davis

CSC205-01-Computational Linguistics – John Stone

EDU101-01- Educational Principles in Pluralistic Society – P. Hutchison

EDU101-03- Educational Principles in Pluralistic Society – Jean Ketter

EDU211-01- Politics of Educational Assessment – Jean Ketter

EDU212-01- Critical Pedagogy and School Reform – Kara Lycke

FRN395-01- Mai 1968: The Culture of Revolt – Jan Gross

PHI268-01- Cultural Critique: Marx, Nietzsche, Freud and Beyond – Alan Schrift

POL225-01- US Public Policy and Democracy – Dionne Benson-Smith

RUS495-01- Seminar on Russian Culture and Linguistics – A. Vishevsky

SOC242-01- Deviance and Social Control – Chris Hunter

SOC295-01-International Migration – David Cook-Martin

SOC295-02- Contemporary Asian American issues – P. Leung

SOC350-01- NGOs: Organizing to do Good – Chris Hunter

SOC395-01- Queer Theory – Betsy Erbaugh

Spring 2009

ANT257-01 – Latin American Cultures – Eric Carter

ANT295-02- Anthropological & Archeological Approaches to Space/Place – Kathy Kamp

CSC105-01- The Digital Age – J. Weinman

CSC151-01-Functional Problem Solving - Weinman

CSC151-02- Functional Problem Solving – Janet Davis

CSC207-01- Algorithms & Object-Oriented Design -Weinman

CSC295-01- Computer Graphics – M. Coahran

ECN295-01- Foundations of Policy Analysis – Bill Ferguson

ECN378-01- Seminar in Law and Economics – B. Graham

EDU101-01- Educational Principles in Pluralistic Society – P. Hutchison

EDU215-01- Reading and Writing Youth Culture – Kara Lycke

EDU221-01- Educational Psychology – Kara Lycke

FRN350-01- From Decolonization to “la France plurielle” – Jan Gross

HIS295-03- US Environmental History – M. Guenther

MAT309-01- Design and Analysis of Experiments – Shonda Kuiper

POL222-01- Welfare, State, Policy and Society – Dionne BensonSmith

POL295-01- Role of Religion in World Politics – Bob Grey

POL305-01- Transnational Legal Institutions – Russell Osgood

POL395-01- American Public Policy – Dionne BensonSmith

REL214-01- Christian Scriptures – Henry Rietz

SOC248-01- Self and Society – Chris Hunter

SOC265-01- Sociology of Health and Illness – Susan Ferguson

SOC295-02- Beyond Black and White – David Cook-Martin

SOC395-01- Citizenship Matters – David Cook-Martin

General Literary Studies: in Chinese, English, German, Japanese, and Russian literature and film in translations; (Unless instructors specifically identified these are interdisciplinary they are not counted in the total but should be noted)