

Getting the Monkey off Your Back

How to Determine if You're on track to Your Grinnell Degree

Your academic adviser and the Registrar's Office can provide you with lots of assistance in determining if you are on track to graduate but ultimately the "monkey is on your back". You are responsible for tracking if you are meeting all the requirements to earn your Grinnell degree. You also need to make sure that your academic evaluation includes substitute courses you and your adviser might have discussed. If it's not on the academic evaluation as counting toward your major – it's not counting toward your major.

STANDING: 2nd Semester, 3rd Year

Program Status: In Progress

	Required	Earned	Total Crs Remaining	In (*) Progress	Remaining
Grinnell Crs Only ...	100.00	78.50	21.50	17.00	4.50
Required Degree Crs:	124.00	78.50	45.50	17.00	28.50
GPA.....		3.160	Met

The status tells where you are toward meeting your graduation requirements. The statuses are: In Progress, Pending Completion means your major requirements, credits, and GPA are all in process and you should have no problem graduating and Complete which means you are getting your diploma shortly.

Remaining: The number of credits for which you have not yet registered and will need to be completed to finish your degree..

Credits that don't count: This is warning you of the various maximums – after you've reached the maximum shown below, the credits no longer count toward the 124 required to graduate.

Maximum contribution in effect:

- M1 = Maximum 92 Credits per Division
- M2 = Maximum 48 Credits per Department
- M3 = Maximum 8 Credits of Practica
- M4 = Maximum 4 Credits of PHE-100 and PHE-101
- M5 = Maximum 16 Credits of Performance
- M6 = Maximum 16 Credits with Grade of D
- M7 = Maximum 12 Credits Independent Study per Department

What's finished? What's in Process?
