

ROSENFELD PROGRAM

in public affairs, international relations, and human rights

STUDENTS

Would you be interested in serving as a student member on the

ROSENFELD PROGRAM COMMITTEE?

Now is the time to apply for student membership on the Rosenfield Program Committee for 2014-15. All current 1st, 2nd, and 3rd year students who have an interest in public affairs, international relations and human rights are urged to apply. The committee consists of faculty and students. The Rosenfield Program holds two or three major symposia each year, sponsors speakers and campus programs, and funds summer internships. Membership requires a substantial time commitment in planning programs and hosting visitors.

To apply, please submit a statement to Laureen Van Wyk at vanwyk@grinnell.edu by noon on Thursday, April 10. This statement should include:

- Your interest in public affairs, international relations, and human rights
- Your comments on Rosenfield Program events you have attended
- Ideas for events you would like to attend in the future
- Your major (if declared)
- Class year
- Activities and coursework which relate to the purposes of the Rosenfield Program

If you have any questions about being a student member on the Rosenfield Program Committee, please contact the director, Professor Sarah Purcell, or a current student committee member -

Cynthia Amezcua '14, Sapir Blau '14, Lily Jamaludin '14, Thomas Neil '14, Corina Varlan '14, Keaton Cameron-Burr '15, Leah Lucas '14, Nipun Basrar '15, or Roni Finkelstein '15

